THE COSTUMING IS VARIED

For Grottesqueness Probably Never Equaled Here—Prizes Are Awarded At The Pennsylvania Railroad Station By the Judges

Hobgoblins, ghosts, spooks, the aged and the middle-aged, and the young, gowned in bizarre costumes with tendency of the modern period breathing through their grotesqueness, congregated at the Municipal building at 7:30 o'clock last night, and headed by a band, to the number of probably 250, marched to Tenth street in Fallowfield and up McKean avenue to Fifth street and McKean avenue, the place of disbandment. Rain falling was no deterrent on the spirits of the revelers, and seldom, if ever, has a formal celebration of Halloween been more successful in the borough. The costuming this year was the most varied, picturesque and grotesque, of any ever witnessed in a Halloween celebration in Charleroi.

When the parade was disbanded at the Pennsylvania Railroad station, the judges, Burgess J. Bryant Tussing, Roland W. Brown and John Jenkins, were taxed to their utmost resources to adjudge the winners of the prizes. The square from the corner of Fifth street and McKean avenue was congested with people, mummies and their friends, and the police had difficulty in segregating the crowd so that all would have even foot space. There were so many of the mummies and the ghosts, the goblins and the spooks; their costumes were so varied, and commendable in the majority of cases, that the judges had a real task on their hands in the awarding of the prizes. However, they decided that the following were the winners:

First prize, $10 in gold, best dressed man, Doris Calachi, who assumed the costume of George Washington; the second prize, $5 in gold, best dressed woman, Martha Washington, took the second prize; the third prize, $10 in gold, given to the funniest dressed man, was awarded to Murphy Evers of Donora; the fourth prize, $10 in gold, given to the funniest dressed lady, was given to Mrs. William Crafic, to the best dressed boy, $5 in gold, Eugene Matson, was the winner; for the best dressed girl, $5 in gold, Lepith Albright, winner; the award for the funniest dressed boy, $5 in gold, was given to a woman, who assumed the character, a Mrs. Elizabeth Luce, while for the funniest dressed girl, Mrs. Forrest Doyle was given the prize, $5 in gold.

At the conclusion of the giving of the prize money to the winners, people, or those so inclined, enjoyed the dancing provided, and patronized the booths provided by the firemen. These booths to be in vogue this evening, and afford an unexcelled opportunity for the public to buy ornamental and substantial articles at

THE EDICT IS NOT TAKEN VERY GRACIOUSLY

Governor Pinchot's edict, announcement, or proclamation that the hunting season shall not formally open in this state until Thursday, November 6, was not received graciously here yesterday, particularly, by the sportsmen.

A peculiar and unusual feature in connection with the postponement of the opening of the season is contained in the fact that hunters are inconvenienced, and perhaps, in some cases, even suffer monetary loss as a result of the edict of the governor. Locally applied, sportsmen in Charleroi and vicinity had prepared to hie to the woods and the fields today in quest of game; and another feature of the case, hunters left for their Gretna Greens a few days, or several days ago, ready to take to the woods and fields this morning. In a number of instances, just how many, of course, is problematical, sportsmen will be shooting game today, unaware of the proclamation of the governor, and maybe, they will hunt a number of days before being apprised of the postponement. It is said that over 500,000 are affected by the proclamation.

SCOUT TROOP IS ORGANIZED

Thirty-six boys of Bentleyville presented applications for membership in this organization and were accepted as members of Bentleyville Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America.

Four of the applicants which were former members of this organization were accepted as full members, the remaining thirty-two will be required to pass the tenderfoot examination which comprises the following: Scout Laws, Motto, Sign Salute, Significance of the Badge, Composition and oration; the fourth prize, $10 in gold, History of the Flag and the Customary Forms of Respect to it, also Scout Aying.

C. C. Harpneck, chairman, S. F. Caldwell and C. R. McClain, Troop Council, appointed by the President of the Chamber of Commerce, who body is sponsoring this organization, and Scout Masters, C. E. Nixon and assistants, B. B. Sharpnack and F. O. Crompton, were present and gave interesting talks to the boys assembled.

reasonable prices, the money so accruing to be devoted to the Christmas Tree Community fund. The first aid float and the Dickinson truck embellished with autumn leaves were features earning favorable comment.

Republicans of Avella Section to Hold A Big Campaign Rally

The final Republican rallies of the present campaign will be held tonight with meetings at West Alexander, Wylandville and Avella. The Avella meeting has been arranged at the request of citizens over there, and good speakers will be sent to the Wyandash town, where interest in the election is good.

Last night meetings were held at Beallsville, Bentleyville and Clayville. Congressman Temple and Attorney A. M. Templeton of Washington were the speakers at first two meetings. Dr. Temple discussed among other things the immigration law and Mr. Templeton the record of the Coolidge administration.

The Clayville meeting was an open-air one, Attorney Rufus S. Mariner of Washington, being the principal speaker. Mr. Mariner emphasized the importance of supporting President Coolidge by electing a congress in sympathy with him. He pointed out that it would be futile to reelect the President if he did not have the support and backing of a congress of his own party.

THINK! Are You Interested?

John W. Davis tells us the tariff is unconstitutional, because it is protective. Then, if you are interested as owner or wage-earner in any industry that needs protection from the cheap products of Europe, Asia, or South America, you should use your influence against the election of Davis to the Presidency.

We had no tin plate industry until we had a protective tariff. Experience has shown that our wool, glass, cutlery, pottery, textile, vegetable oil, dye, chemical, toy, and jewelry industries are absolutely dependent upon a protective tariff and our beet and cane sugar industries are largely dependent.

If you are interested in any of these industries, either directly or indirectly, you ought to be for the political party that supports a protective tariff not only as constitutional but sound in policy. Both the Democratic Party and the Third Party are fighting the Republican tariff law.

If you want the 35 cents a day wage rate of China or the rotten living conditions of Europe, then of course you don't want protection.

HUNTING OPENS IN 22 COUNTIES

Harrisburg, Nov. 1.—Hunting was permitted to twenty-two counties where rain last night automatically lifted the ban placed by Governor Pinchot until November 6. No delay in opening the season on small game was experienced in the counties favored by showers and they include some of the best game regions in the state.

The state game commission announced the season open because of rain last night in the following counties: Adams (upper part), Blair, Carbon, Center, Forest, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Mifflin, Perry, Pike, part of Wyoming, York.

The decision as to whether or not sufficient rain fell to permit hunting today in different parts of the state rests with game wardens and forest rangers in the field who are familiar with conditions, it was stated at the headquarters of the game commission.

The football game yesterday afternoon at Bentleyville between the High School team of that place and the East Bethlehem team was brought abruptly to a close after Bentleyville had scored a touchdown and made a placement kick in the first quarter, giving them a lead of 7-0.

The second quarter went scoreless, and after the first half had ended and the two teams took their 15-minute rest, just as the referee blew his whistle to start play, it is alleged, that East Bethlehem spectators and enthusiasts got into an argument among themselves and attempted to throw the playing field.

The special and regular police were taken to their utmost to handle the big crowd of approximately 600 local people and East Bethlehem rooters, when the East Bethlehem fans, a critical condition with a bullet, surged onto the field and attacked the police. The Bentleyville supporters, a naturally took up the fracas, and a general free-for-all mixup occurred.

There was none badly hurt, and no arrests were made. The game was given or forfeited to the Bentleyville aggregation by a score of 1-0. The officials of the game were: Dr. W. E. Herrington, referee, Cook University; umpire, Mr. Campbell of California; head linesman, Mr. Berth, Bentleyville.

BELIEVE MURDERED MAN VICTIM OF WELL-LAID PLOT

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—Dominick Malana, 39, of Beelers Mill, near Leetsdale, Sewickley township, whose body was found in the camp meeting road early today was the victim of a well-planned murder is the opinion of county detectives working on the case. The body was found by motorists a short distance from an automobile, the engine of which was still running. Directly across the road in front of the car was a large limb of a tree. Detectives believe the assailant planned the attack carefully. When Malana got out of his car to remove the limb, the murderer fired five shots from his hiding place in the bushes along the road.

LOCAL FIREMEN

SQUELCH FLAMES IN BOROUGH

Fire broke out in the Joe Abrams confectionery at the entrance to the bridge between North Charleroi and Monessen, causing nominal damage. The cause being ascribed to a leak in the gas. The prompt arrival and efficient work of the North Charleroi Fire department, who squelched the blaze, precluded what might have been a disastrous blaze.

Charleroi firemen were called to Twelfth street and Meadow avenue this morning by a chimney fire, which did little damage.

LOCAL MERCHANT DENIES CHARGE

Charleroi, Pa., Oct. 31, 1924. Charleroi Mail, Charleroi, Pa., Gentlemen:

Your issue of October 30 contains an account of my being arraigned before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing on a charge of disorderly conduct and being fined $10 and costs. The fact that I was arraigned and fined, is, of course, correct; but the statement of facts contained in your article is not correct, and in order that the public may know my position in the matter, I desire to state the facts of the case as they really happened.

On October 29, 1924, Mrs. Veloski called at my place of business for the purpose of purchasing a hat. She selected a hat, but desired to have the same altered. The hat was altered in accordance with her instructions, and after being altered she refused to accept the hat. I remonstrated with her, calling her attention to the fact that she had agreed to accept the hat when altered and that it had been altered in accordance with her instructions. She thereupon became very abusive and started to raise a disturbance. Whereupon I ordered her to leave the store, which she immediately did. During all of the controversy, I did not lay hands upon Mrs. Veloski, did not use any force to remove her from my store, and did not commit an assault and battery upon her. I did not either push or kick her, as is set forth in your article.

Your article further states that I said that this affair is not the first of similar affairs in which I have been involved. This statement is absolutely false. As long as I have been in business in Charleroi I have never had any trouble or disturbance with any of my customers, and any person who informs you that I have had is making a wilful mis-statement of fact.

Will you kindly publish this statement so that the public may be in possession of both sides of this very unfortunate affair. Very truly yours, N. J. Greenberg.

Unknown Men Last Night Stop Car And Compel Occupants to Turn Over $20—The Highwaymen Are Not Masked

ROBBERS ARE ABUSIVE

Occupants Are Attacked By the Bandits—Outlaws Are Roughly Dressed, And the Officers of the Law, Who Have Their Description, Are Working on Case

James D. Fell, a resident of Wheeling, W. Va., and a companion, driving a Chevrolet coupe, were apprehended by two men in a Ford roadster on the Washington pike, one mile from Ginger Hill last night, and after being threatened by the two bandits, were compelled to hand over $20 to avoid a beating. Fell notified the police department of Monongahela and the state highway patrol has also been notified.

Fell and his companion, who is a cripple, were traveling along at a moderate rate of speed when the roadster overtook them as they were passing through Ginger Hill. Continuing behind them for some distance the car suddenly pulled in front of theirs and stopped in the middle of the highway. Fell, unable to pass around the car, was also compelled to stop. They noticed that the license plate on the rear of the machine had been covered with a piece of cloth. The two men, both about 5 feet 9 inches tall, roughly dressed, came back to the coupe and demanded both men to step to the ground. Both complied at once and one of the highwaymen stepped up to Fell and demanded $20 in payment for damage which he stated Fell did to a roadster.

When Fell denied this assertion the man struck Fell and when his crippled companion went to intercede he was felled with a blow. Realizing they would be unable to meet the men on equal ground in combat, Fell gave the man $20 and after being abused was permitted to drive on. The car turned and went back to Monongahela. Fell proceeded on for a short distance and then also turned. He drove to the Monongahela police station and reported the action of the highwaymen.

It is a source of complaint from the La Follette forces that beneficiaries of the Republican tariff law have contributed to the Republican campaign fund. There is not an individual in the country who is not a beneficiary of that law. The remarkable prosperity that has come to us since the Republicans took over the Government is due more to the protective tariff than to any other single cause. All of us share in that prosperity, but some of us refuse to put credit for a where created.

Of course that prosperity has brought increased profits to what the La Follette people contemptuously refer to as "big business." Those profits have encouraged expansion, which has meant greater employment at substantial wages. Naturally those business interests want to see continued at Washington the policies under which they have prospered, and they are willing to aid with money contributions in bringing that about. Just as naturally, intelligent people of smaller means, including the wage earners, are contributing as they are able, and will vote with the directors of big business to preserve the protective tariff and keep the Republicans in power.

There is no "purchase of special privilege" or other form of corruption in that action. Rather, corruption is practiced by the enemies of Republicanism who are trying to poison the minds of the people against their friends in order to take possession of their votes for selfish purposes. Therein lies the real menace of special privilege. Senator La Follette wants the special privilege of enacting such laws as he pleases through a Congress of his own mind, and then enforcing them regardless of any mandate from the Supreme Court declaring them unconstitutional. He wants the privilege of taking charge of the railroads and all other public utilities, appointing their employees, fixing their salaries, and organizing them into the greatest political machine ever known. All this without regard to the rights of the people to protection under the constitution, or to competition among utilities that guarantees efficient service at a reasonable price.

"Slush funds" are needed only when it becomes necessary to upset a voter's personal judgment. It is always nothing to present a man with a sum of money, when it is apparent his political support has already been won through the presentation of facts and argument. That is the matter-of-fact reason, regardless of all moral considerations, why there is no foundation for the slush fund cry from the La Follette camp. The benefits of Republican policies, both at home and abroad, are proved by the records. These records are open to all voters to read and form their own conclusions. Reports from all sections of the country show that the people have made such a study and are rallying to the ticket of Coolidge and Daves as a consequence. No slush fund is needed to buy their support.

FANS ARE GRIEVED TO LEARN OF DEATH OF SAM LEEVER

Local baseball fans were grieved upon learning yesterday of the death of Sam Leever, who in his day not only pitched brilliantly in a Pirate uniform, but ranked as one of the greatest hurlers of the National League 20 odd seasons ago. He died on Wednesday at his home in Goshen, O.

Samuel Leever was born on December 23, 1872, in the little town in Southwestern Ohio where he answered the last call. His first professional engagement was at Richmond, Va., in the Atlantic League in 1897. In the autumn of the same season he was purchased by the Pittsburgh ball club and remained on the Pittsburgh roster until the spring of 1911, when he failed to report and was given his unconditional release. Afterward he signed with the Minneapolis team, but shortly retired from the diamond.

Leever's name headed the list of hurlers in 1901 and 1903, his consistent work being a big factor in bringing pennants to Pittsburgh in those two seasons, as well as in 1902. He was the leading moundman in 1905 when the Pirates finished in second place. Notwithstanding his success in the memorable campaign of 1903 Sam encountered tough luck when he faced the Boston club in the big series.

STORM CLOUDS
THREATEN RADICAL
SOCIALIST RULE

Paris, Nov. 1.—Storm clouds threatening the political life of Edouard Herriot's radical-Socialist government gathered on the horizon today in the wake of the storm that swept Ramsay MacDonald's Socialist-Labor government from power across the channel.

A national congress of the Socialist party met at noon to decide whether to continue to support Herriot when the French parliament re-assembles next Tuesday. Two wings of the Socialist party are dissatisfied with the government's treatment of questions of amnesty, economic policies and the budget project.

Support of the Socialist deputies is necessary if Herriot is to remain in power, and the former are angered at his action regarding thousands of railwaymen who were discharged during the 1920 strike. Yesterday they held a stormy meeting in the chamber and decided to demand that the premier practically annul his decision and adopt the Socialist demand for re-employment of the strikers without conditions.

The decision to be reached today or tomorrow is most important because it may lead directly to the fall of the Herriot government.

Dublin, Nov. 1.—Eamonn De Valera, who twice invaded Ulster on behalf of Republican candidates for the British parliament was sentenced at Belfast today to serve one month in prison for disobeying the order prohibiting his entry into the Northern provinces.

Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion of the world, who had declared his intention of demanding a license yesterday from the state athletic commission and of suing the body for $250,000 if it rejected his application, did not appear before the commission. No reason was given.

The commission had advised its license committee to refuse McTigue's application for one year because of his failure to recognize the right of Gene Tunney, designated by the commission as logical challenger, to the first chance at his title.

The commission yesterday declared in disfavor Frankie Carpenter, who fought McTigue at Providence, R. I., on Wednesday night. The declaration was made owing to Carpenter's en-disfavor with the board.

Jack Malone, who met Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, at Newark the same night, likewise was declared in disfavor. Managers of both Carpenter and Malone were placed in a similar predicament.

Savings Deposits

There are many people who delay the opening of a Savings Account because they feel that a small deposit will not be welcome and that it is better to wait until they have accumulated a considerable sum. Too often they keep on waiting.

The First National Bank wants you to know that we welcome Savings deposits in any amount from $1.00 upwards and that the size of the account does not matter so much. The REGULARITY with which you save means more to us—and to you—than the amount deposited.

KLAN AND THE
Several street fights between the opposing factions.

Disappearance of Mayor Harvey Kistler from Niles.

The mayor was believed to have spent the night at Warren to escape importunate visitors who wished him to act on the matter of stopping a Klan parade today.

Both the Ku Klux Klan and a rival organization known as the Knights of the Flaming Circle have conventions here today. Two thousand of the latter were expected by noon.

Dr. B. A. Bart, head of the Klan in Trumbull county, said the advertised konklave which caused all the trouble would be held as planned, at 2 p. m.

Sheriff John E. Thomas has been having difficulty getting enough men to act as special deputies.

Trouble between the factions started when advance guards arrived in Niles last evening, and there were sporadic outbreaks throughout the night.

In Society's Realm

The Belvedere club of Monessen entertained with a masquerade dance in the Moose Hall, Monessen last evening with over 100 couples present.

Mrs. Augusta Venklemputte of Meadow avenue, Charlevoi, was awarded first prize for wearing the most beautiful costume. Mrs. Venklemputte was attired as a queen with a robe of heavy canton crepe trimmed with black fur. Her train bearer, Mrs. Steve Mayneinick was dressed as a little girl and wore gold satin.

Miss Margaret Stopp of Second street was hostess to the members of her Sunday school class of St. Jerome's Catholic church Thursday evening. The affair was in the form of a masquerade party, and the twenty-one in attendance appeared in many varied costumes. The interior of the Stopp home was decorated for the occasion. At a later hour luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Dolan. A happy evening.

In the parlors of the Elks club last evening the members of the Friday Evening 500 club were entertained by Mrs. William High. The first part of the evening was spent in playing cards. Mrs. High played and the favors were awarded to Mrs. M. T. Clowey, Mrs. P. J. Connerly and Mrs. William Ludwig. At eleven o'clock, the guests were ushered to the dining room which was beautifully decorated to conform with the season and which was lighted only by the darkened pumpkin shades giving the appearance of "spookiness." A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter Ruth. The balance of the evening was spent in singing and dancing.

The members of the Ladies Aid society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church had a good time last night at the home of Mrs. J. M. Fleming of Fallowfield avenue when they made merry at their annual masquerade party. There were forty members in attendance, all of whom were masked, and many were the surprises when later in the evening everyone unmasked. The amusements consisted of a grand march, fortune telling and many amusing games. A delicious luncheon was served by the committee composed of Mrs. J. M. Fleming, Mrs. James Stevenson, Mrs. Joe Miller, Mrs. Emma Dawson, Mrs. William Stamm, Mrs. Frank Knappenberger, and Mrs. G. M. Stewart.

Dr. and Mrs. V. P. Vieslet entertained at their Crest avenue residence last evening with a masquerade dance. The interior of the home was very beautifully and profusely decorated with Halloween lanterns, black cats, witches, orange and black crepe paper, and the like, making a very appropriate scene for the affair. The seventeen couple appeared in very elaborate costumes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Blady receiving the prize for the fanciest costumes, while Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Wagner received the prize for wearing the most comic. Johnny Jenkins orchestra furnished the music for dancing, which was the chief diversion. To supplement the evening a very fine luncheon was served by William High, steward of the Charlevoi Elks club. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lowstuter of Monessen and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dunn of Latrobe. One of the features of the evening's entertainment were the selections sung by Mr. Dunn, who possesses a very fine voice.

MAN IS ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Joseph J. Halka, 27 years old, of Fourteenth street Donora driver of a large touring car which struck and killed Jack Pastenza, aged 40 years of Red Lion Fayette county in East Main street, Monongahela, at 8:05 o'clock Wednesday evening, was found guilty of manslaughter by the coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Pastenza yesterday morning at the L. M. Frye mortuary. The three passengers in Halka's car, who were John Odelga, John Pavelko and Peter Kopens, all of Donora, were discharged as having no connection with the case. Coroner William Greenlee conducted the inquest.

After a lengthy deliberation on the case the jury returned the verdict, asking that Halka be held for manslaughter as the result of having found that he was traveling at a reckless rate of speed when his car struck Pastenza, causing a fractured skull. The jury could find nothing to incriminate Odelga, Kopena or Pavelko and they were discharged from the jurisdiction of the coroner and the city.

Following the inquest Halka was taken to the police station and was taken to Washington county jail yesterday afternoon.

The end of a perfect day is the first day of the month with no bills received.

That would be your answer if someone told you to turn against a lifelong friend just because he became ill.

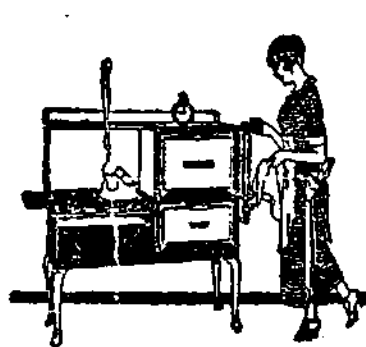

All through life your appendix has been a true friend, doing an important work in your body. When it becomes inflamed, there is always a cause. This is usually due to pressure on nerves supplying the appendix, making it weak and diseased. Let us explain how CHIROPRACTIC corrects the cause of "APPENDICITIS" and nature makes the appendix strong enough to do its work.
